Citizenship in Society Merit Badge

Citizenship in Society provides Scouts with opportunities to learn more about our world by encouraging them to explore information on diversity, equity, inclusion, and ethical leadership — and to learn why these qualities are important in society and in Scouting.

To earn the merit badge, Scouts must conduct research; explore resources; have conversations with merit badge counselors, peers, parents, and community members; and identify actions they can take to ensure inclusivity and belonging in Scouting and society in general.

The full requirements for the merit badge and materials for merit badge counselors can be found at scouting.org.

One of the unique features of Citizenship in Society is that there is no merit badge pamphlet with prescribed approaches or ideologies. There also are no requirements meant to drive a particular response or lead a Scout down a path toward a predetermined conclusion.

Instead, Citizenship in Society encourages Scouts to embark on a journey of discovery. In this case, it's a journey of self-discovery as they explore a variety of topics around diversity, equity, and inclusion and belonging, and then discuss how they apply their findings to life as a Scout and as a good citizen in society.

Scouts are encouraged to explore the topics as deeply and broadly as they see fit for their personal learning and growth. While a merit badge counselor may ask the Scout to identify their sources of information, the counselor will not be providing Scouts with answers. Instead, they will help facilitate discussions that aid Scouts in their understanding.

The merit badge will become Eagle-required on July 1, 2022.

In addition to information for Scouts about the Citizenship in Society merit badge, there is also information about the merit badge for Merit Badge Counselors.

More information about the merit badge and the BSA's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion can be found at scouting.org/dei, including the press release about the addition of this new merit badge.

Christmas for Our Veterans

The Claremore Veterans Facility currently houses 158 men and one woman. However, they can accommodate up to 300 veterans. Their numbers frequently change. All residents are provided with essential toiletries. However, they are all unscented. Whenever they received scented items, they are used quickly. Also, the men appreciate multi-bladed razors for a cleaner shave.

If you wish to donate any of the items listed, please, call me at 918-333-9439 or email or leave them in the box at the Scout Service Center in Bartlesville.

All units with a charter expiration date of December 31, 2021, and beyond, will be submitted through a new system located in Internet Advancement 2.0.

More information and training materials will be released in September. See the FAQ for additional information. Connect here to see the sneak preview of the new system!

The new system in Internet Advancement 2.0 will open on October 15, 2021, for all charters with an expiration date of 12/31/2021. A training environment and walkthrough guides will be disbursed in mid-September.
