The price is simple -- it's either $10 or $15 per item (see the order form)

Units and the Council will share the profit 50/50.

For example:

For each $10 item sold, the unit gets to keep $2.62

For the Mammoth Pecans at $15, the unit gets to keep $3.50

For the Pecan pieces at $15, the unit gets to keep $4.00

PLEASE NOTE: Once the unit has received the product, the unit is responsible for keeping the chocolate cool so it doesn't melt.

Scholarships available for the biggest Scouting event in the country

We're officially one year away from the National Jamboree.

If your Scout wants to attend the big event but hesitates about the price tag, the BSA offers scholarships that could cover any requested amount up to the full national fee of $1,285.

The BSA wants to ensure that every eligible Scout who wants to attend the Jamboree can do so — regardless of financial background. Scouts are encouraged to fundraise as much as they can to cover fees, travel expenses, and other costs.

Full scholarships from BSA National will only be given in the most extraordinary cases; most scholarships will total less than half the national fee. Scholarships are only available for youth participants or unit leaders up to age 33. Jamboree staff members are not eligible for a scholarship; all staff members ages 16-33 receive a reduced fee.

The initial application deadline is July 31, 2022, with those applicants being notified if they've been approved by mid-September.

A second scholarship deadline will be Dec. 31, 2022, with those applicants being notified by mid-February.

UNIT PROGRAM PLANNING

Planning your annual calendar is a vital piece for your unit. Make your plan and get input from the youth, leaders, and families to ensure they get the most out of the Scouting program.

First, you will need calendars such as school calendars, community event calendars, and of course, Scouting event calendars (Council events, training, district events, popcorn/camp card dates, summer camp, and more!).

To view all the exciting events occurring over the next 18 months you can visit the Cherokee Area event calendar HERE or access it through our council website.

Next, make a plan to get everyone involved in this process. The BSA has some great resources for organizing annual planning conferences from forms, sample agendas, short videos, and PowerPoint presentations.

You can find information HERE

Remember to refer back to the calendar to get updates and specific information on events as they get closer and get ready to have a great year of Scouting!

Why you should consider an offseason family vacation to Florida Sea Base

At the southernmost tip of our country lies a tropical paradise known as the Florida Keys. It's the perfect place for a family vacation, and from October through April, the BSA has you covered.

The program is open to families with youth under 18 and to all adults registered with the BSA.
